'Taste of SC' Puts Spotlight on Local Food at AgriBiz Expo in Florence

The Taste of South Carolina is one of the feature events at the January AgriBiz and Farm Expo, and the focus will be on food.

Guests will sample South Carolina-grown products, prepared by some of the best chefs in the state. This special reception on Jan. 14 will highlight our state's food, producers, and chefs.

Not only are all the state's commodity boards participating, but the four Chef Ambassadors have been invited to prepare delicious and innovative dishes. The Chef Ambassador program was created by Gov. Nikki Haley, SC Commissioner of Agriculture Hugh Weathers, and SC Parks, Recreation and Tourism Director Duane Parrish. Each year an outstanding chef is selected from each of the state's four regions: Upstate, Midlands, Pee Dee and Lowcountry.

The chefs are committed to sourcing local food through Certified SC Grown, and they are noted for their culinary skills. They include Heidi Trull of Grits & Groceries in Belton, Brandon Velie of Juniper in Ridge Spring, Cooper Thomas of Victor's Bistro in Florence, and Brian Waters of Saltus River Grill in Beaufort.

Each of the chefs will showcase local foods for the Taste. Chef Velie will prepare beef provided by the S.C. Cattlemen's Association, while Chef Trull will cook seafood from the S.C. Seafood Alliance. Pork from the Pork Producers Association will be prepared by Chef Thomas, and Chef Waters will turn his hand to poultry from Carolina Fresh Foods.

Sponsors promise lots of great food, fun, beverages, entertainment, and fellowship with the entire agribusiness community. The reception serves as a good opportunity to showcase key agribusiness companies, leaders, award winners, and advocates.

"Taste of South Carolina" is an invitation event with limited tickets for $25 each. Invitations to legislators, producers, and leaders in agriculture and agribusiness have already been sent. We welcome anyone else who would like to attend and you can reserve a ticket by visiting www.eventbrite.com and searching by event name "Taste of South Carolina" and location "Florence, S.C."

Sponsored by AgSouth Farm Credit, the reception will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 14, starting at 6:30 p.m. at the Florence Civic Center.

S.C. Agritourism Mini Conference to Be Held Jan. 14th

Free Conference Focuses on Agritourism in South Carolina

If you have an Agritourism component or would like to learn more about Agritourism, then mark your calendar now. The S.C. Agritourism Mini Conference will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 14th from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Florence Civic Center. The event is held in conjunction with the S.C. Agribiz & Farm Expo and has an agenda that focuses on creating and improving agriculture experiences for potential visitors to your place of business.

Featured speakers include Martin Eubanks (S.C. Department of Agriculture), Martha Glass (N.C. Agritourism Networking), Buddy Jennings (S.C. Farm Bureau Federation), Jackie Moore

The conference is free, including lunch, to all who pre-register with paid $5 admission to the AgriBiz and Farm Expo, which includes a farm show with a wide variety of equipment, farm products, and educational components. RSVP for the S.C. Agritourism Mini Conference by Jan. 6 to jmoore@scda.sc.gov. Visit www.scagribiz.com for a full schedule of events for the expo and the agritourism conference.

Nursery & Landscape Professionals to Meet in Myrtle Beach

Landscape contractors, greenhouse growers, nursery growers, and grounds maintenance professionals are invited to the S.C. Nursery and Landscape Association conference in Myrtle Beach on Feb. 4-6.

The S.C. Horticulture Industry market place and seminars offer "green" professionals the opportunity to learn, earn ISA CEU's, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Georgia Pesticide Applicator Re-certification credits, visit the 250-plus booths at the trade show, and be at the beach all in the same trip.

Highlights of the 2015 conference are:

- A day-long design and graphics class;

A New Year Is Coming

A new year means another chance to start off on the right foot.

We thought it would be fun to ask our staff for their New Year's Resolutions. The calendar offers everyone a chance to start new projects and aim for greater achievements. Some folks write down their resolutions, while others ignore the whole ordeal. Better not to be disappointed, right?

As for me at work, I plan to look at the next 10 years and see what we at the SCDA can do to make the agriculture industry stronger and even more of an economic impact than it already is. Having a long range plan makes it easier to focus on goals in the short term. Any good long-range plan requires the first step. We'll be doing that the first week of the new year with a strategic planning session with senior staff and some industry folks.

New for next year, I will make more regular stops at various agriculture and agribusiness locations across the state. We call it our tailgate tour; we might just pull up in a parking lot and drop the tailgate and talk farming. Be on the look-out for an invitation at a stop near you. I want to meet as many of you as possible.

Big things are coming in 2015, like our new metrology lab. We'll have more on that later. As always, we will continue to support our farmers and keep our consumers informed. I look forward to a great year.

SC Market Bulletin Policies

1. Only ads pertaining to agricultural products and items used in actual growth, harvesting, and disposal of such agricultural products are published.
 2. One ad per category, up to 4 different categories per household.
 3. Only ads with South Carolina addresses are accepted. Ads from out-of-state are NOT permitted.
 4. The advertiser's complete name, address, zip code, county, and phone number with area code are required for each ad submitted. However, only the advertiser's name, county, and phone number are listed in the ad.
 5. Ads may be submitted directly at the SCDA web site. Visit agriculture.sc.gov, select the Market Bulletin arrow, then select "POST AN AD TO THE MARKET BULLETIN", complete the online form with ad information and submit.
 6. Ads are published one time. To be repeated in another issue, ads must be renewed before each issue's deadline with all the required information. The deadline date can be found in the top left hand corner of the front page under the Market Bulletin header.
 7. ALL "For Sale" ads must include a price.
 8. No sealed bids or legal notices for sale will be printed. Notices will not be published for consignment sales.
 9. Ads are limited to 150 characters or less, this includes name, county, phone number, letters of the alphabet, spaces, and punctuation marks.
 10. Ads are NOT accepted from commercial entities including, but not limited to dealers, merchants or representatives of commercial establishments, including real estate agents, unless the property in the ad is personally owned by such person. Persons who have business licenses to sell agricultural and non-agricultural items are not eligible to advertise. U.S. Post Office regulations prohibit the publication of commercial ads because of periodical postage privileges.
 11. The Market Bulletin reserves the right to edit and/or verify any and all ads or a notice submitted for publication, and does NOT accept responsibility for ads. Ads are received in good faith. Notifying the Market Bulletin of evidence of bad faith on the part of any advertiser would be appreciated.
 13. Special Rules for specific advertising categories:
 - Dog Category
Only dog-for-sale notices are published. Such advertisements shall only be published as space permits. All dog-for-sale ads must include copies of a rabies vaccination certificate for dogs 3 months and older. Ads for dogs under 3 months of age must be accompanied by the date of birth. No dog kennel or breeder ads are permitted.
 - Farm Equipment Category
Farm equipment offered for sale must include a written statement stating: "This machinery/equipment has been used by me in an agricultural endeavor and is not offered for sale by an equipment dealer or commercial enterprise." Only farm truck ads with legitimate FM license tag numbers will be accepted. The farm truck license tag number must be included with the ad.
 - Farm Labor Category
Notices are accepted for agricultural work only and not for housework, nursing or companionship needs.
 - Farm Land Category
Farm land listed must be for at least 5 acres under cultivation, grazing, or timber, and include a written statement stating, "This Acreage/Land is my personal property." Ads from real estate agents are not accepted unless they personally own the property being offered for sale.
 - Horses, Mules & Donkeys Category
Horse, mule, and donkey ads must include an unaltered legible current copy of a negative Coggins test. Under 6 months old, the birth date must be included.
 - Miscellaneous
Raw milk, eggs, butter, and cheese products officially permitted by the SC Department of Health and Environmental Control Dairy Division, but not licensed for commercial sales, will be published.
 - Seeds Category
All seed advertisements must be accompanied by a copy of a current Seed Lab Test.
- Note: Advertisers with Rabies, Coggins, or Seed Lab Test requirements can now submit their documentation when submitting their ads online, by uploading a jpeg, pdf or word document.

The Agriculture Commission of South Carolina

December 15, 2014

Dear Private Treaty Vendor, Livestock Market Operator, and Others,

The South Carolina Agriculture Commission recently completed an industry request to vote on an increase in the state beef assessment. After hosting statewide hearings, attending meetings to discuss the referendum, and going through the voting process, we have certified that the vote met all regulatory requirements and has passed. An additional $0.50 per head will now be collected to remain in-state to fund beef promotion, education, and research efforts. This becomes effective on January 1, 2015.

The new assessment is in addition to the $1.00 per head that you have been collecting on behalf of the Federal Marketing Order/SC Beef Council. The new rate will be $1.50 per head sold. Assessment forms and checks for payment are to be submitted each month to the South Carolina Department of Agriculture.

It is noted that a producer may request a refund of the new $0.50 assessment by written request and inclusion of a copy of sales receipts mailed to the Agriculture Commission, C/O the South Carolina Department of Agriculture, within 30 days from the date of sale. This only applies to the new in-state assessment.

Included with this notice are updated assessment forms for Private Treaty sales and Livestock Auction Market sales. The updated forms will also be available on the South Carolina Department of Agriculture web-site at www.agriculture.sc.gov (and also on the SCCA/SCBC website at www.sccattle.org). Please begin using these forms for all cattle sales on or after January 1, 2015.

The South Carolina Agriculture Commission appreciates your assistance in collecting assessments as defined under the Marketing Act (Section 46-5-10). Should you or any of the producers you deal with have any questions in regards to the State Beef Assessment, please contact Martin Eubanks at the South Carolina Department of Agriculture at 803-734-2200.

With Kind Regards,

Frances H. Price, Chair
South Carolina Agriculture Commission

A New Year Is Coming

And now, here are a few resolutions from our folks at the department:

Carla, Finance: I resolve to try to lead by example with everyone around me – children, grandchildren, husband, and coworkers. I resolve to cook more and eat out less. I resolve to smile more often – God has blessed me in too many ways for me NOT to smile! I resolve to try to quit being so snippy with my daughter - it's too easy to snip at her because she snips back!

Vickie, Lab: 1. To always maintain a level of integrity that pleases my "higher power." 2. To always let the people in my circle (friends and family) know how I feel about them. 3. To not make empty promises to myself, my family, my co-workers, and especially my God.

Meredith, Public Information: Spend more time with my husband. We seem to be going in different directions at 100 miles per hour. Time to slow down. Date nights!

Sherry, Lab: My New Year's Resolution is to travel more and eat less!!

Ansley, Marketing: Save money, invest more, spend less. Get better organized. And I'd like to play and win the lottery.

Stefanie, Commissioner's Office: Instead of making resolutions, I make a list of 25 new things I want to do in the new year, such as places to travel, dishes to cook, and activities I haven't tried.

Rhonda, Lab: To win the lottery and be rich.

Justin, Lab: I resolve to make an honest effort to try to like Clemson.

Martin T., Food & Feed Safety: I plan to either lose a few pounds or get a new clothes dryer. Something is causing my clothes to get tighter and I like to tell myself it's the dryer and not the dollar menu!

Mary, Marketing/Metrology: My new resolution is to reunite with six friends that I haven't seen since high school or college. I actually did that with three friends this year and it was so much fun!

Chris, IT: What do I need to do better? About two-thirds of people's resolutions are broken by President's Day, so there's not much point in listing them.

John, Consumer Services: Be more focused.

Bev, Finance: Eat healthier.

Derek, Assistant Commissioner: I don't make resolutions; therefore I never disappoint myself.

Elizabeth, Marketing: Last year I resolved to take more personal pictures, and I did that. It's fun to look back on them. I resolve this year to do good and not try to fix things.

Marsha, Marketing/Public Information: Visit family, especially out of town relatives. At the end of the year I always wonder why I didn't take the time to go see my cousins who live elsewhere.

Janet, Public Information: I keep thinking, "Let it go!"

Clint, Assistant Commissioner: Eat healthier and lose weight. Exercise more. Actually, exercise any at all!

Talley, Administration: Eat and drink more and be merry, and don't worry about my weight.

Sydney, Public Information: Don't waste time making resolutions if you can't keep them.

Hugh, Commissioner and farmer: Convince my brother and nephew that I am capable of driving some of our tractors on the farm that have all the new expensive gizmos without doing major damage to them.

Just as a disclaimer, the views expressed above are for your enjoyment and for you to know the folks at your Department of Agriculture just a little better. Wishing you and your family a happy, healthy, and prosperous new year!

Sanders Named S.C. Tree Farmer of the Year

Jimmy Sanders of Greenwood has been named South Carolina Tree Farmer of the Year by the S.C. Tree Farm Committee. He was honored for outstanding work on his tree farm and contributions to forestry.

Sanders, a retired Natural Resources Conservation Service District Conservationist, knows the true value of tree farming. He has had his property under a written forest management plan since 1988. His primary objectives include timber, erosion control, water quality, wildlife habitat, recreation, and aesthetics. He was involved in organizing the Upper Savannah Land Trust and has served as a board member since 2003.

He has been a member of the S.C. Forestry Association since 1996, is president of Greenwood County Forestry Association, a member of Abbeville Forest Landowners Association, and the Soil and Water Society. In 2011 he was the Greenwood County Forest Farmer of the Year.

Sanders has participated in all S.C. Tree Farm Legislative Days and assisted with the Woodland Clinic for 25 years. He completed the Master Tree Farmer program in 2013 and then hosted a tour on his farm, which focused on thinnings, final harvests, site preparation, planting, wildlife plots, road work and stabilization, pond management, hardwood area management, and invasive species control.

"Over the past 25 years, we've acquired around

525 acres of timberland in three Piedmont counties--Abbeville, Saluda, and Union--that are all Certified Tree Farms," Sanders said. "About 80 percent is devoted to loblolly pine production, with the balance in hardwood forest and woodland openings managed for wildlife habitat. My objective is to pass the farms on to my son and hope that one day he'll pass them on to his son."

He said that being selected is a tremendous honor. "I love every aspect of agriculture and forestry. I consider a loblolly pine plantation as a crop to be planted, nurtured, harvested and then re-planted just as any other crop."

Sanders added that tree farmers have seen drastic reductions in prices received for forest products. Natural catastrophic occurrences such as fire, insects, disease, and weather must be considered. The development of new markets presents a challenge, while fluctuations in fuel prices and the cost of harvesting affects prices.
